

Resources for new fathers

Groups Supporting Dads Within the Greater Portland Area

1. Portland New Fathers' Group –www.meetup.com/Portland-New-Fathers-meetup/- This is a group facilitated by myself, Sam Stevens. It is a free group for fathers of children under 3 years old to connect with one another and talk about their experiences being new dads. It is held at Café au Play on 55th and SE Division on the first Sunday of the month from 12:30-2:00. You can also follow us on Facebook under Portland New Fathers' Group, and the closed Community group connected to it for more private conversations.
2. Impact Northwest Dads' Group –impactnw.org Brentwood-Darlington Community Center, 7211 SE 62nd Ave; 503-988-5961, x256, ssowards@impactnw.org . An informal group for dads and kids 5 and under. Hang out, swap stories, eat pizza and play. FREE. Every Tuesday, 6-7:30 pm. Brentwood-Darlington Community Center, 7211 SE 62nd Ave.; 503-988-6127 x243. This is a male led play group of dads getting together to hang out, swap stories, eat pizza and play with their kids.
3. PDX Dads - <https://www.meetup.com/PDXDadsGroup/> and on Facebook at <https://www.facebook.com/PDXDadsGroup/> A group for Stay At Home Dads, Dads with flexible schedules, work from home dads, freelance dads, working dads, and involved fathers in and around the Portland metro area looking to socialize and interact with other guys who enjoy spending quality time with their children. They meet several times per month, with kids, at parks, playgrounds, museums, parent-and-me classes, and living rooms across the Portland metro area. They organize parenting workshops and dads-nights-out for an opportunity to socialize, learn, and support each other.
4. Portland Dads at Home – www.portlanddad.com. An email based group Connecting stay- and work at-home dads and kids. Online forum for local fathers to connect, and share information and support.

General Parent Support

1. Rainbow Babies <http://dev.pdxqcenter.org/programs/youth-programs/rainbow-babies-playgroup-for-lgbtq-families/> a playgroup for LGBTQ families. Rainbow Babies offers parents of children 0-3 years a place to play and meet new friends in a safe and supportive space. This group is peer-led and volunteer driven. meets every Tuesday morning from 9:30-11am Fall/Winter at the Q Center, Spring/Summer in parks. They have a Facebook page with up-to-date information at <https://www.facebook.com/groups/RainbowBabiesPDX>
2. Single parent meetup. <http://singleparents.meetup.com/cities/us/or/portland/> - A good way connect with other single parents.
3. Full House Moms and Dads. <http://www.fullhousemoms.com/> A nonprofit support group dedicated to educate and assist families of twins, triplets, and higher order multiples.

Postpartum Depression

1. Baby Blues – www.babybluesconnection.org. Baby blues is a local organization supporting women, men and their families struggling with Postpartum Depression. There is phone support via their warm line (not a crisis line) 866-616-3752 if you have questions or are in need of support. Volunteer run and most are women and men who have experienced postpartum depression themselves.

2. Postpartum Dads - www.postpartumdads.org PostpartumDads is an online volunteer based outreach project affiliated with Postpartum Support International. There is information for partners of women who are going through postpartum depression, as well as dads struggling.
3. Postpartum Men - www.postpartummen.com is a place for men with concerns about depression, anxiety or other problems with mood after the birth of a child. It promotes self-help, provides important information for fathers – including a self-assessment for postpartum depression – hosts an online forum for dads to talk to each other, offers resources, gathers new information about men’s experiences postpartum, and – most importantly – helps fathers to beat the baby blues.

Books for Fathers

1. Be Prepared: A Practical Handbook for New Dads by Greenberg and Hayden. This is a great, no BS handbook-style book that offers straightforward advice for fathers during the first year after birth. A lot of guys (and moms too) like it because it is like a manual and can be used as a quick reference.
2. Fathers At Birth by Rose St. John. An excellent birth preparation book for fathers specifically.
3. The Book of dads edited by Ben George– A book of essays by dads on fatherhood.
4. Daddy Shift: How Stay-at-Home Dads, Breadwinning Moms, and Shared Parenting Are Transforming the American Family by Jeremy Smith. Accessible and real.

Books about Preparing for Birth

1. And Baby Makes More: Known Donors, Queer Parents, and Our Unexpected Families edited by Susan Goldberg, Chloë Brushwood Rose is a collection of stories from a variety of parents (lesbian couples, single women, a gay male couple using a surrogate, etc.) exploring the role of the "known donor" in the queer family structure. contributors include donors, biological and non-bio parents, and their children.

Reconnecting with your partner after birth

1. And Baby Makes Three by Gottman and Gottman. This is a great book based on research about marriages that focuses on reconnecting and maintaining intimacy after the birth of a child.
2. FOR COUPLES: NURTURING YOUR RELATIONSHIP AFTER BABY ARRIVES, a one time class. At the Alma Midwifery education space at 433 SE 13th. Free/Alma clients or $25 couple. Check their website for the date of the next class. www.almamidwiferyevents.com/parent-groups/
3. Love in the Time of Colic: The New Parents’ Guide to Getting it on Again by Kerner and Raykeil. The title pretty much speaks for itself.

Books About Sleep

1. The Happiest Baby on the Block: The New Way to Calm Crying and Help Your Newborn Baby Sleep Longer by Karp. This is a good one, especially for babies who cry a lot. It focuses on soothing techniques to help parents their kids stop crying. This is great for newborns.
2. Good Night, Sleep Tight: The Sleep Lady's Gentle Guide to Helping Your Child Go to Sleep, Stay Asleep and Wake Up Happy by West and Kenan. This is a good all-around book on sleep issues. It is helpful for parents who are having trouble getting their kid to sleep and don't like the ideal of the Ferber "cry it out" method. Tips for parents through the toddler years.

Books About General Parenting

1. The Baby Book; Everything you Need to Know about Your Baby, by William Sears and Martha Sears. They also have a wonderful website full of information and an additional book about parenting a Premature Infant.
2. The Aware Baby by Aletha Solter. This is a great book on infant development. It has a wonderful piece on babies' cries, what traumatizes babies and what doesn't, and on loving and nurturing your baby.
3. Parenting From The Inside Out by Dan Siegal. This book focuses on parents own childhood and how it impacts the way we ourselves parent.
4. Love and Logic magic for early Childhood: Practical Parenting from Birth to Six Years by Fay and Fay. The original Love and Logic series geared specifically towards young children.
5. The Parent Handbook by Dinkman. This is a straight forward book with techniques that parents can apply working with their own kids. I recommend the 1997.
6. Playful Parenting by Lawrence Cohen, PhD. This is a great book focused on parenting your children while keeping joy, roughhousing, and following your child's lead.
7. Growing Up Again: Parenting Ourselves, Parenting Our Children by Clark and Dawson. Good for concrete information on how to nurture children in developmentally appropriate ways.
8. Touchpoints: Your Child's Emotional and Behavioral Development, Birth to 3 years of age, by T. Berry Brazelton, M.D. There are also many You Tube and audio tapes describing Dr. Brazelton's work.
9. Peaceful Parents, Happy Kids by Dr. Laura Markham.

Activities for Parents with Their Children

1. PDX Kids Calendar - <http://www.pdxkidscalendar.com> Kid friendly activities in Portland arranged by date. Mostly geared towards toddlers and up, such as kids music, balloon animals, etc. Lots of free and low cost activities.
2. Community Centers – www.portlandonline.com/parks/ Community centers throughout greater Portland provide wonderful activities for you and your child. Community centers with indoor pools exist in the East, SE, NE, SW, and West. Activities include parent-toddler swim lessons, parent-child preschool swim times, toddler indoor play park, and preschool age art activities. They are affordable and very interactive.
3. Library Story/Tiny Tots- <https://multcolib.org/events/storytimes> Multnomah county library, and almost all library districts have story hours for small children. Most days have events somewhere within the county, and they are organized by hours. Some are for young children, such as Tiny Tots, which is for 1 year old children and their parents. FREE.
4. Rainbow Babies - <http://www.pdxqcenter.org/programs/> a playgroup for LGBTQ families. Rainbow Babies offers parents of children 0-3 years a place to play and meet new friends in a safe and supportive space. This group is peer-led and volunteer driven. meets every Tuesday morning from 9:30-11am Fall/Winter at the Q Center, Spring/Summer in parks. They have a Facebook page with up-to-date information.
5. Hike it Baby - www.hikeitbaby.com A co-ed hiking group, exploring the various trails in Portland with babies and young children. Often multiple hikes per week, some for kids in carriers, some for strollers, and some toddler/older kid focused hikes. They are encouraging of dads, and would like to have dad centered hikes.

6. Music Together - <http://www.musictogether-pdx.com> This is a weekly activity that you can do with your child age 6 months to 5 years. You sing kid songs and meet other parents with kids the same age. You sign up for an ongoing class that meets once a week. $140 for 10 weeks.
7. Lil' Kickers - www.pdxlilkickers.com Lil' Kickers is a non-competitive, introductory soccer and movement skills program for boys and girls ages 18 months - 9 years. Classes are held at Portland Indoor Soccer Center (SE Portland). Parents and kids play organized games together to develop listening skills, balance, ball skills, and foot-eye coordination. $175 for 10 classes.
8. The Oregon Zoo – www.oregonzoo.org. Taking your kid to the zoo can be great, and not just in the summer. Walking for you, entertainment for them and you too. Plenty of animals to engage both of you. The cost is $11.50 for adults, but kids under 3 are free. Getting a membership (starting at $70/yr) really makes it something you can go to as often as you like. The second Tuesday of each month it's only $4 to get in.
9. OMSI - www.omsi.edu 1945 SE Water Ave. The Oregon Museum of Science and Industry is a great place to take the kids. They have a great preschool room that most people miss (just look for all the strollers). The place is expensive, but similar to the zoo in that you get a lot out of it if you get a membership. Lots of interactive science based activities.
10. The Children's Museum - www.portlandcm.org 4015 SW Canyon Road Portland, OR 97221 Interactive and fun for kids, with rotating visits. It costs $10 for adults and free for children under the age of 1. The first Friday of the month is free from 4-8 PM.
11. Do Jump at the Echo Theater - <http://www.echotheaterpdx.org/> Tumbling, acrobatics and aerial (trapeze and silks) classes age 1.5 and up. You sign up for an ongoing class. Children (and adults) learn tumbling, balance, and how to work with their own bodies. Lots of fun.
12. Playdate PDX <http://www.playdatepdx.com/> 1434 NW 17th Ave., Portland. Basically a giant habitrail indoor playground for kids, with a very large café/lounge area for parents to sit while their kids play. They have good coffee, OK food. Much more expensive on the weekends than during the week. You benefit from buying a 10 punch card. Ages 2 and up, though prices are higher age 4 and up. Good if your kids need to get out some energy on the weekends and you need to work or catch a break and hang out with other parents.
13. Seahorses – Previously a dad-centric kids store, now a new non-profit geared towards supporting fathers. Regular kids activities including kids music, games/activities, and the list is growing.

Parent/Kid Friendly Restaurants and Coffee Houses

1. Hopworks – www.hopworksbeer.com/ A very family friendly brewpub with locations in SE and North Portland, As well as Vancouver, with play areas for toddler/preschool age children. The North Williams location has a wonderful large outdoor patio for kids to play in, and happy hour prices through the entire restaurant. They also have a healthy kids menu.
2. Laurelwood – www.laurelwoodbrewpub.com Another family friendly brewpub with toddler/preschool age play areas, with locations in inner SE and NE Portland.
3. Warehouse Coffee – 3434 SE Milwaukie Ave, Portland, OR 97202 In inner SE Portland they have a kid friendly back room and often host kids' music activities.
4. Munchkin Playground - 18335 NW W Union Rd, Portland, OR 97229, www.munchkinplayland.com A far West side play café/play space for parents of toddlers and preschool age kids. They have food there.

5. Monkey King Playhouse - 17112 SE Powell Blvd, Portland, OR 97236. Gresham indoor playground, good for preschool age kids but not known for being very good for toddlers. They have some food and drink. Similar to Playdate PDX.
